Dr. Gad Ravid

Dr. Ravid has a PH.D from the University of Toronto and Bachelor degree in Psychology from Bar-Ilan and masters of Management from Tel –Aviv University Israel.

Currently Dr. Ravid is the Dean School of Management and the Dean School of Management of Information Systems at Netanya Academic College in Israel, where he is a senior Lecturer of Management. In the past he taught in Tel-Aviv University. At the same time, Dr. Ravid is the CEO and Professional Manager of the "Missing Element" – a consulting Firm. Previously he was manager and VP of HR in Large Israeli organizations both High and law tech.

Dr. Ravid has a profound professional experience in the GLOBAL Mobility phenomenon. For many years he has been working both on theoretical and practical models of global mobility. He is the leading professional in training and creation of know how in Israel. He has been working closely with Adv. Kan-tor on legal and human aspects of Global Mobility both in Israel and in Europe.

Dr. Ravid has a vast experience both in the particle and in the theoretical and academic aspects of training, consulting, group behavior, Career consulting, implementation of Educational Systems in Organizations and the art of the retention of people at work. He is involved in different business organizations and volunteer ones both in Israel and outside the country.

Dr. Ravid has published in various journals and books and took part in conferences all over the world.
gadi.ravid@gmail.com

972508455548